It was nice to have a professor that understood that we can be overwhelmed with other classes, so he makes the work quick and simple.
I felt that in the middle of year you starting rushing. I didn't like how we would have an exam on chapters we talked about colons of weeks before instead of directly after .
Overall all I think the professor was really good and taught the material well, sometimes he tends to go fast paced.
I think he did a good job I wish we had more practice problems that were similar to the wording used on assessments as the wording was more confusing than understanding the material.
Try to match the powerpoints to the actual homework. The powerpoints were basically vocabulary while the homework was hard critical thinking.
Only thing would be the homework website is not my favorite
Lectures could be more engaging, could explain the concepts in class more clearly
There was a large use of graphs, which for me was not great. It felt like Professor Aziz was reading quite a bit from a textbook, as opposed to letting his thoughts flow freely. This made attempting to explain complex topics not only difficult, but also confusing to me. The length of the class definitely hampered my learning ability, as I am not an economics major, nor do I have any intention of doing anything similar or near that field, so having to sit and look at graphs for an hour and 15 minutes was, difficult, for me. Personally, I do not feel like I gained any substantial insight or knowledge about agribusiness. However, Professor Aziz, when he went more off script of what was written in the slides notes, he allowed his personally to show and that did bring my focus back to what he was instructing.
I think that the class is really good just hard for me to calculate grade and keep attention in class.
He is a good teacher he tries to use "American" examples like pizza and pizza stoves when talking about economics and I'm sure that helps some people .. His accent is not to heavy but it does sound nice and overall is helpful and easy to understand
I think adding more agriculture examples would have helped me learn more. I took the class because it was supposed to be an agriculture related and didn't relate at all.
I loved this class and think the course load was beneficial and the instructor was supportive!
There is nothing that he could have done any different. He was a great teacher in all ways and he was always very helpful.
I don't have much criticism other than you spoke a little to fast sometimes and could have given a few more examples on certain chapters.
I personally would prefer if we got time in class to work on homework, as I had many questions while I was doing it. It would have been more beneficial to me to have someone answer my questions in person rather than over email.
Fix the homework website available to students. I wish we were given worksheets of some kind to properly understand the graphing portions of economics.
Class was very interesting, maybe add more ways it relates into agribusiness?
No suggestions, just appreciated the passion and competence which Mr. Aziz showed in his subject. It was my first economics class and it has definitely changed the way I view the world. Thank you!
Nothing. I think this course is set up really well. I really enjoyed this professor and I felt that he prepares us well for everything. There is nothing that he could do better when teaching this course i really enjoyed this class and the way the professor interacted and explained everything thoroughly.
Great Course!
The professor made economics interesting and easy to learn, I gained a lot from this class and instructor.
